Email your questions about our campaign to build a new church to: campaign@blessedsacramentnc.org.

Recently, many of you have asked me why we are building the new church now in this down economy.

I was reading an article in the Church Executive written by Ronald Keener and want to share excerpts from the article.

David Hatton of Churchworx says, “building a church project in these uncertain economic times is both a smart use of God’s money and requires an extraordinary vision, faith and leadership from the church’s pastor, staff and members.”

He goes on to say that projects are experiencing a “total project delivered” cost decline of 19-23% compared to 2007. Hatton states, “that translates into the fact that every dollar spent, a church will realize $1.30 worth of total “project in place” value.”

Stephen McSwain from Cargill Associates states, “What should drive any building plan, is first, the call of God, and second, the need itself”

God is calling us to build the Kingdom of God here in the Burlington area, and we have an urgent need to build our new home. Please prayerfully consider your support of our “I Make All Things New” capital campaign.

Thank you!
